Good day fellow Fund Managers!

As highlighted by the theme of our recent convention, Investing in the New Norm: When Virtual Augments Reality - now, more than ever before, there is a need to strengthen a digital and online presence. Recognizing this, we are working towards breathing new life into our website (www.fmap.com.ph) to make it more relevant in this increasingly digital age.

To this end, FMAP is excited to launch 2 new initiatives which we hope will provide value for both our members as well as the broader investing public.

The first of these is related to information and financial literacy. Majority of our active members are well-versed and always updated in matters related to financial markets and other factors within our chosen field. However, the same may not be true for colleagues of ours who have a different professional focus within our respective firms. FMAP aims to provide a resource archive of informational documents related to general investing and broad financial markets which we hope will be of value to any interested in learning more about these topics. We have no intention of reinventing the wheel and, knowing full well that many of our members have existing resources of this type, would like to solicit voluntary contributions to the archive. The specific mechanics for submission and acceptance will be outlined in a separate document. We believe this is something that would be of value and hope for your continued support as always!

The second of these initiatives is a service which we believe may prove particularly useful. Hiring is a persistent fact of life for companies big and small. At times, the ease-of-use provided by digital channels can feel like a double-edged sword when having to filter and screen through numerous applications - especially when the applications landing in front of you feel poorly-screened or ill-suited for the skillset needed. We are pleased to announce the launching of FMAP Classifieds.

For a monthly fee, members can have a URL link of their specification hosted in the FMAP Classifieds section. As professionals that deal actively with the concept of probability on a day-to-day basis, we understand that, given the individuals who will be checking the FMAP Classifieds, this potentially increases the chance of a 'right fit for the role' crossing our paths. We believe this service will offer a reasonable alternative between the traditional 'shotgun' approaches to more traditional job posting services and the more costly options. Specific mechanics will be outlined in a separate document.

Many thanks again to our valued members and we hope for your continued support on these initiatives. Stay safe always.
